Art Unit: 2142

1. Claims 1-12 remain for examination.
2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. The claims are more directed to client environment setting which should be reflected in the Title.
3. The applicant should use this period for response to thoroughly and very closely proof read and review the whole of the application for correct correlation between reference numerals in the textual portion of the Specification and Drawings along with any minor spelling errors, general typographical errors, accuracy, assurance of proper use for Trademarks ™ were required, and clarity of meaning in the Specification, Drawings, and specifically the claims. Minor typographical errors could render a Patent unenforceable and so the applicant is strongly encouraged to aid in this endeavor. Again, spaces are required (e.g., see Abstract of which a new Abstract is required) between words throughout this application.
4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the applicant regards as the invention. The scope of meaning of the following claim language is not clear:

..FORMATFORMAT.DOC

- a) "the use"--claim 1 (line 13) and claim 10 (line 14);
  - b) "the performance"--claim 1 (line 15) and claim 10 (line 16).
6. As to 5(a and b) above, these are but a few examples of numerous cases where clear antecedent bases are lacking and not an exhausting recital.
  7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Akiyoshi et al. (5,548,729).
9. Prior to addressing the grounds of the rejections below, should this application ever be the subject of public review by third parties not so versed with the technology (i.e., access to IFW through Public PAIR (as found on <http://portal.uspto.gov/external/portal/pair>)), this Office action will usually refer an applicant's attention to relevant and helpful elements, figures, and/or text upon which the Office action relies to support the position taken. Thus, the following citations are neither all-inclusive nor all-exclusive in nature as the whole of the reference is cited and relied upon in this action as part of the substantial evidence of record. Also, no temporal order was claimed for the acts and/or functions.

10. Per claims 11 and 12, Akiyoshi taught a system and method having a server (e.g., see figure 2 (152)) for performing a process corresponding to requests from a plurality of clients (e.g., see Abstract), comprising:

- a) client identifying unit for identifying a requesting client when receiving a request to execute a process from one of the clients (e.g., see figures 3-4(c) and col. 4 (line 63) to col. 5 (line 31));
- b) an environment setting device for obtaining a stored environment setting information corresponding to the requesting client (e.g., see figure 5-6(b) and col. 4 (lines 58-62) and col. 6 (lines 23-67)); and,
- c) a processor for setting a respective environment of the requesting client (e.g., see col. 6 (lines 23-45)), with the requesting client being determined based on a packet sent from the requesting client (e.g., see col. 6 (lines 59-63)) and processes of the requesting client being executed based on the set environment of the requesting client (i.e., the sending of environment settings was a process).

11. The applicant's remarks filed July 9, 2004, have been considered, but are held moot in view of the new grounds of rejection provided above. However, claims 1-10 are allowable over the art of record since the art of record fails to teach or remotely suggest the defined invention as currently claimed. If the applicant elects to cancel claims 11 and 12, and compiles with paragraphs 2 and 3 above, this application would stand allowable.

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

13. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

14. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
